Lots of fun to be had at Japan's northernmost multipurpose complex.

A market with a huge monument of a seabed trawler, an area displaying information about Karafuto (Sakhalin) and its strong links with Wakkanai, and a number of food stalls. So much fun, you'll want to come back again and again.

Take a glimpse of Wakkanai's history at the Former Seto Family House.

The former residence of a seabed trawler owner that was built in 1952. The elaborate details of the tea room, transom windows and ceiling boards are well worth seeing, and convey the vestiges of the period when the trawling industry prospered. It is a registered tangible cultural property of Japan.

(Registered name: Former Seto Family House Main Building)
